

SDG Field Trip (School Program)

Peace & Nature's SDG field trip is a hands-on learning experience for students, who are the future of the Earth, to gain new insights into the SDGs through hands-on experience, thereby broadening and deepening their knowledge of the SDGs and developing their human skills. We will propose a program that best suits your needs. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us.

Outline of the program

We offer experience programs ranging from half a day to 2 nights and 3 days. We can arrange multiple experience courses upon request.

Examples of experience courses (varies depending on the season)

[1] Food and Farming

1-1. Growing pesticide-free rice (rice planting, harvesting, etc.)

1-2. Growing pesticide-free vegetables and herbs (soil preparation and edamame harvest, onion harvest, aroma spray making, etc.)

Food education (making miso, natto, etc.)

[2] Environment

2-1. Satoyama and forest conservation activities (tree planting and clearing undergrowth, thinning and chopping firewood, etc.)

2-2. Effective utilization of bamboo and forest/satoyama resources (bamboo felling and bamboo fence making, bamboo felling and bamboo powder making, straw weaving and straw barrel making, etc.)

2-3. contribution to the local community (harvest sake rice, etc.)

[3] Human Resource

3-1. Global communication

3-2. zazen/yoga

How to proceed with the program

P&N's SDG School Program consists of Steps 1, 2, and 3, and we hope that participants will gain new insights. We will support the participants to think about what they can do now and what they can do in the future, and to improve their human skills.

Step 1 Orientation

First of all, let's learn, what is the SDGs? Environmental and social issues currently facing the world and Japan.

Step 2 Action

Let's actually work on the SDGs with us! Rice planting, harvesting, farming, Satoyama activities, forestry activities, cross-cultural communication, etc., and gain knowledge and awareness while learning new skills.

Step 3 Review

Discuss the findings and learning from Steps 1 & 2 in a group work session.
and how we should address the SDGs in the future.

Depending on the content of the experience, participants may be awarded a certificate of attendance or a certificate of recognition.
